THE TALE OF TWO ITALIAN BOYS FROM THE OTHER SIDE OF SICILY, ITALY & NEW JERSEY

The Red Devil Italian Restaurants are part of a dream ...the American dream of entrepreneurship. Big Joe and his partner Little Joe turned their dream into reality in 1960 when, together, they opened their first restaurant. The name Red Devil was an easy choice because it was already on the sign out front when they bought the joint. Money was tight, so Big Joe and Little Joe had no choice but to put their families to work. Loud arguments, personal sacrifices, long hours, quality ingredients and loyal customers have paid off. Today, with leadership from the second generation, Big Joe's sons Mike and Joe Digeno Jr., Red Devil thrives in the valley of the sun. With the passing of Big Joe and Little Joe - their traditions, flavors and American dream are carried on to generations to come, thanks to you.
